

since the pleasant eve. we passed at J. N. McKim's - & Thy Wendell's - in Dudley Park Then thou presented me Saml J. May's Book on the Anti-Slavery Conflict - On looking over it with so much interest, I have wanted to thank thee again for it - His notes & memoirs do not furnish a thorough History, but his beautiful spirit marks the book throughout I wish Miller N. K. & thyself would unite in presenting to the public just what is needed as none other it seems to me <sup>can</sup> do it so well Clarkson's slave Trade tho' necessarily egotistical not offensively so, could not have been written by his helpers, as by himself - Senator Wilson will doubtless give the political history as well as we desire - He has applied to some of our Philada. Abolitionists, for facts in the life & labors of Tho: Shipley, Evan Lewis & Lind ley Coates - If I succeed in begging thee to take part in our coming jubilee, I shall be encouraged to ask thee, & Wendell Phillips too to sink past differences in Wom. Rig. struggle & let the May meetg. be one & undivided - Amen

Love in full measure to Mrs. Kimball & to your ever affectionate friend Wendell Phillips

is now in Boston - He will confer with our friends there, as to the time of holding the Commemorative M<sup>g</sup> of the 15th. Amendmt<sup>t</sup> and of the great events of the two years past.
Since he left us I have regretted that I did not urge him to call on thee, and ask if thou cannot, in view of so great a movement, leave the things that are behind, and unite with all who may be disposed to come together to celebrate these marvelous events - I called on Mary Grew yest<sup>r</sup>.
She agreed with me in this desire, & said the Ex. Com. would doubtless send a special invitation - May we not hope that it will be accepted, - and that Edmund Quincy, Samuel May Jr. & other of our long tried friends may again cooperate with us in a measure that involves no compromise? Let us not hope in vain. - We have not met I think
